Dear TCCS Community,

I hope that you are all well. As a follow up to the message that I sent earlier this week, I'm writing to share an important update about our revised reopening plan and a temporary change to our instructional program around the holiday season.

Last night, out of an abundance of caution and in the best interest of the health and safety of our students and staff, the Board of Trustees voted to amend our reopening plan to temporarily switch to our full remote / virtual instruction program for all students starting next Monday, November 23. This revised reopening plan has been posted on the TCCS website.

All students will remain in the full remote / virtual program until hybrid in-person instruction is scheduled to resume on Tuesday, January 19. During this time, we will continue to follow our regular school calendar, with half days and holiday breaks occurring as originally scheduled.

If you have any questions about the full remote schedule (which students followed from September to Mid-October), please follow up with your student(s)' teachers.

As always, I'd like to thank the entire community for your flexibility, understanding, and cooperation as we continue to work together to make the best of a very difficult school year. Please stay safe, healthy, and vigilant this holiday season!

Thanks and Best Regards,

Ralph Gallo
